DEVOTED TO LOCAL AND SOCIETY NEWS.

TERMS, ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR.

Volume IX.

FRANKFORT, KY., DECEMBER 5, 1885.

Number 12.

Monday is County Court day.

For SALE.—Office desk. Apply at this office.

The first mash of the season of 1885-6 was made at the Hermitage distillery on Monday.

The usual blue ribbon temperance meeting will be held at the Court House to-night.

Thirty convicts were taken from the Penitentiary Monday to work in the coal mines in Pulaski county.

The Chautauque Circle will meet at the Chapel of the Christian Church on Monday evening at 7 o'clock.

The Parlor Match, one of the best plays now being presented, will be given at the Opera House on Thursday evening.

By the request of my Rev. G. F. Bagby will repeat on to-morrow evening his sermon of several weeks ago on the "Unpardonable Sin."

Mr. James M. Dunn, the temperance worker who held a meeting here a few months since, will commence a series of meetings in Shelbyville in a short time.

Dick Higdon has removed his barber shop to the basement of Messrs. Holmes & Halloran's drug store, on the corner of St. Clair and Main streets.

The Thanksgiving dinner of the musical critic of the Yemeni must have certainly disagreed with him, judging from his lengthy article upon the concert of Thursday night of last week.

The work of raising the water main from the bottom of the river is progressing slowly and steadily. The south half of it was gotten to the surface of the water yesterday.

Cards are out for the marriage of Miss Lizzie Page, formerly of this city, but now of Olney, Illinois, and Mr. Charles B. Hollister, of that place, on Tuesday evening next, December 8th.

Mr. Ed. O'Donnell, who, until about a month since, was section foreman for the L. & N. Railroad at the yard in this city, died Wednesday afternoon at Cropper's depot, with typhoid fever.

Lost.—Part of a gold watch chain, with bar and gold dollar attached. The monogram, S. L. M., is engraved on the dollar. The finder will be suitably rewarded by returning to J. N. Miles.

A party of six young men went from this city to Anderson county on a hunting trip on Thanksgiving day, killed one hundred and six rabbits before dinner, and were at home by 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Not a good day for rabbits either.

Rev. R. E. Caldwell returned Tuesday from Shelbyville, where he has been assisting in a protracted meeting at the Southern Presbyterian Church in that place. He reports 37 additions to the Church up to the time he left and the meeting is still in progress.

A little son of Mr. John Marsh Moore had his face and arm badly burned Thursday by an explosion of powder. He and some little playmates were firing a toy cannon, on a vacant lot in South Frankfort, when the powder containing their powder caught fire and in attempting to put it out he received the injuries.

The children of the Mission Band of the Christian Church gave an entertainment at the Church Wednesday evening, consisting of songs and recitations, which, though short, was very interesting. Quite a large audience was in attendance, and a very satisfactory collection was taken up for the benefit of the missionary work.

Since the distilleries have commenced running a large quantity of corn is being hauled into the city.

Hudson, Humphries & Cassell's show windows are unusually attractive with the display of new holiday goods.

In consequence of a recent decision of the Jefferson Circuit Court on a test case, druggists are now required to pay a license of one hundred dollars to sell whisky by retail, except upon a prescription of a physician, and fifty dollars to sell wine.

Lost.—On the Georgetown pike, between Woodlake and this city, or on Main street in this city, a Russian leather pocket-book containing a small sum of money. Finder will be liberally rewarded on leaving the same at this office or with W. J. Lewis at Woodlake.

A lewd woman, insanely drunk, made a howl Sunday afternoon. She ran from place to place yelling and screaming, until a mob of colored people began to follow and stone her. It was one of the most disgraceful scenes ever witnessed in that locality. The police finally arrested her and restored quiet.

An exhibition of the Lewis fire extinguisher or grenade was given in front of the Capitol square Tuesday afternoon. A large box smeared with pitch, filled with kindling wood and sprinkled with coal oil, was set on fire and when in full blaze the extinguisher was brought into use and soon put out the fire. The party who used it, however, had all the skin burnt off the back of his hand.

From what we learn, the meeting of the Teachers' Association in the Hall of the House of Representatives, next Saturday, December 12, promises to be the event of the season. Everybody is invited, and nearly everybody will attend. The invitation has been sent not only to the teachers of the common schools in Franklin county, but to the colleges and academies, and select and common schools in all the surrounding counties, and the responses received by the management indicate that there will be a very large attendance, and that all persons engaged in teaching are in full sympathy with this laudable movement to elevate the standard of education throughout the State. It is a creditable feature that so much home talent has consented to participate in the entertainment. Major Stanton will read The Moneyless Man, a poem which has attracted attention on both sides of the ocean; Mrs. Leslie Collins will read one of her elegant poems; Professor Hawes, perhaps one of the most eloquent readers in Kentucky, will read several selections; a member of the bar will read Proud Miss Melville; Col. Tom Ford will read an original Philistine on the School Fund in rhyme, which is well worth a day's travel to hear; Professor Munter and his musicalness will preside at the organ, and Miss Nellie Osborn, Frankfort's favorite daughter of song, has kindly consented to lead the chorus of several of her sweetest songs. With such a programme, and much that cannot be enumerated for want of space, we hazard nothing in predicting a crowded hall, and a most agreeable entertainment.

Mr. J. M. Norris, an old resident of Boone, Ga., says that he had been badly troubled with Kidney Complaint for a great many years and with Eczema for three years; at times could scarcely walk and had tried many remedies without benefit, until he began taking Electric Bitters and moulting his limbs and feet with Bucklen's Astringent Salve. This treatment afforded him great relief and he strongly recommends Electric Bitters to all who suffer with Kidney Complaints, or need a Blood Purifier. Sold by Jos. LeCompte.

Forks of Elkhorn.

Mr. T. T. Cannon went to Scott this week.

Thanks to Mr. A. W. Macklin for the nice ribs.

Wanted.—At the Forks, a good temperance lecture.

We want a search warrant for Woodlake No. 3.

Corn has taken a tumble down—only 81 50 a barrel.

In our next we will give a receipt for a Christmas cake.

What has become of our Bridgeport item. Has the reporter married and settled down for life?

The Elkhorn elder barrels have a combination lock on them, and are guarded with a double-barrelled shotgun, so Jimmie says.

Mr. G. C. Hughes is going the rounds now. He is visiting the voters of this county in behalf of the Clerkship. The Squire means business.

Mr. Mike Shaefer, near Steudmanville, says he has corn that measures thirteen inches. Uncle Mike says he can produce a barrel of such if he tries more.

Mrs. Lizzie Colburn and daughters, Misses Lottie, Annie, Bell and Ethel, of Woodlake, were down last Saturday and spent the evening.

Mr. Cass South was made the happiest of men on last Saturday morning about five o'clock, by the announcement that he was the father of a handsome boy—10 pounds; Weldon Hughes.

We notice in an exchange that the real name of the Russian nihilist writer, Stepanuk, is Druggmanoff. If there is anything in a name he would make a good policeman at the Forks.

Any one wishing to contribute anything for the Forks' Mission Sunday-school Christmas tree can leave it with A. Steudman & Co., Mr. Cass South, Mr. Marian Featherston, or J. H. Burdun.

The reporter from Sundridge says there's a place to get a wife, and we say here's the place to get a husband. We will send over 50 or 60 of our old bachelors and widowers on a courting expedition.

Mr. Howard Black passed through our village last Wednesday en route to Lexington to attend a social.

Miss Annie Parrell, a most lovely young lady from Lexington, who has been visiting Miss Annie Wood since Thanksgiving, returned home last Wednesday. During Miss Annie's short visit in this community she made many friends, who vastly regret her departure.

A very odd affair occurred at Woodlake last Friday week. Mr. D. C. Ruper, a blacksmith, working for Mr. G. W. Colburn, had been feeling badly for several days, and on the morning of the 27th went in the shop and fell dead. Dr. Wallace pronounced the case apoplexy. His remains were sent to his home, No. 1427 Hollman street, Covington, Ky., where he had a wife and one child. Mr. Ruper was a first-class mechanic, and was considered a gentleman in every respect. He was devotedly attached to his family and was liked by all who knew him. His bereaved family have the sympathy of this community.

Most Excellent.

J. J. Atkins, Chief of Police, Knoxville, Tenn., writes: "My family and I are beneficiaries of the most excellent medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, having found it to be all that you claim for it, desire to testify to its virtue. My friends to whom I have recommended it, praise it at every opportunity."

Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup and every affection of the Throat, Chest and Lungs. Trial Bottles free at Jos LeCompte's Drug Store. Large size $1.00.

At a meeting of the pastors, officers and workers of the Sunday-schools of Frankfort, contemplating arrangements for a County Fair-school Convention to be held in this city at an early date. Rev. G. C. Kelly, of the Methodist Church, was chosen chairman.

It was then resolved that each church be represented by one member on each of the following committees:

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

When These Things Come

When in the rosy light of morn
You pluck a rose without a thorn;
When preachers, as in days of old,
Preach for sinners—not for gold;
When bunks that touch with will tend,
Without the mortgage or the friend;
When legislators pass a bill
In which the courts can see no ill;
When lawyers practice honest law,
And make their pleadings without flaw;
When doctors really do agree
About the patient, not the fee;
When politicians cease to ride
Upon corruption's fatal tide;
When freedom votes their honest views,
Without the lash of clique or crew;
When man loves man as God has taught,
In words of love and wisdom fraught;
When these things come to pass, I say,
Then soon will come the judgment day.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov., 1885.

Antioch.

Mr. Newt. Hales and wife were over of the week visiting friends and relatives.

Let the teachers remember next Saturday, and be on hand promptly at 10 A. M. Everybody come.

John Rossel has remodeled his store house inside and made it larger. It will now pass for first-class.

Let everybody attend the feast prepared for them next Saturday, and be on hand promptly at 10 A. M.

Mr. Carter Hales and wife and Mrs. Susan Quire, of Belle Point, spent last Sunday with James Gore and family.

We want every teacher who is down on the programme for next Saturday to feel that they have a part to perform and take enough interest in it to perform their respective parts. Please don't excuse yourself.

Messrs. Tom Hales, James Rossel, Wick Silvers, and Ben. Robinson went rabbit hunting one last Saturday week. Result: Hales, 12 rabbits; Silvers, 21; Rossel, 21. You must ask Dick about the rabbit. They started home about dark, and when near Mr. Louis Webster's, something became wrong with Tom's—his hind legs—and the horse was pulled over the bank where it was about four feet high, throwing wagon, horse, hunters, and game over the bank. This is the only one hurt. Dick declared his leg was broken, but after standing him on his paws, he concluded it was his back, but fortunately there was no serious damage done, and they arrived at their homes safe.

Sandridge.

Every copy of this paper sent me through the mail is read with surprising avidity by at least a dozen persons before it reaches me. This is all right. This shows how a sensible people will appreciate a good thing.

Prof. Tracy will demonstrate his eclectic system of teaching boys business arithmetic. He will also deliver a few choice selections in elocution before the Franklin County Teachers' Association in the city of Frankfort on Dec. 12, 1885.

Assayer J. P. Cuntz, of Harper's Ferry, while exploring this region for minerals, discovered a sulphurous smoke arising from "Mt. Shoel," which is the highest peak here. This indicates we are not far from home.

Col. Milton Moore, of Bald Knob, has no superior in Kentucky for genuine hospitality. This gentleman and his lady have entertained over 200 weary guests annually, without thought of compensation. The gates of paradise will shortly open to these good people as freely as theirs were opened to the benighted stranger.

Our bad boy begins to exhibit signs of senility and heracism. His last act was to throw his mother's only daughter into the creek, while she was asleep, because she had beaten him, not with a stick, but in a game of "seven-up" the evening before. The old lady kept her nest for six hours later, before a neighbor came to her assistance.

Who would envy the pleasure of a guest on a wet Sunday in the old log tavern on the "Hill." Six half-clothed children are all over the hearth, pounding walnuts, while two little girls with stained hands are over on the bed cradling a dirty rag doll. The mistress sits in the north corner on a high chair holding now and then a plump cubbie. She eyes me through the clouds from her pipe as a hawk eyes a chicken. The host sits in an off corner with a piece of long plank on his knees, a silent partner sits opposite with keen eyes fixed on the board. No sound comes from that quarter save the occasional chuck of hard knuckles on the smooth plank. The off corner, the bed and the hearth are three dry places in the room. The rain falls in torrents outside and inside. All hands are at work from the cherub clutching at the curling smoke to the lord of the inn at the desk.

A "Madman's" Legacy.

"Sire!" exclaimed a man in the homely garb of a mechanic to Richeu, Prime Minister of France, as he was entering his palace; "Sire, I have made a discovery which shall make rich and great the nation which shall develop it. Sire, will you give me an audience?"

Richeu, constantly importuned, finally ordered the "madman" imprisoned. Even in jail he did not desist from declaring his "discovery," which on one day attracted the attention of a British nobleman, who heard De Cause's story, and developed his discovery of steam power.

All great discoveries are at first derided. Seven years ago a man yet under middle age, enriched by a business which covered the continent, found himself suddenly stricken down.

When his physicians said his recovery was impossible, he used a new discovery which, like all advances in science, had been opposed at first by the schoolmen. Nevertheless, it cured him, and out of gratitude therefor he consigned a part of his wealth to the spreading of the remedy before the world. Such in brief is the history of Warner's safe cure, which has won, according to the testimony of eminent persons, the most deserved reputation ever accorded to any known compound, and which is finally winning on its merits alone the approval of the most conservative practitioners. Its fame now beats the globe.—The Globe.

Mr. Joseph Switzer has bought of Col. S. D. Bruce, New York City, the station, Bulwark. Price not given.—Midway Clipper.

Bridgeport.

Mrs. Ethel Crutcher is quite sick.

Mr. Jas. Harrod killed the boss hog. But little sickness in this vicinity at present.

The weather has been quite pleasant for a week.

Mr. J. H. Bally made a trip to Bagdad last Saturday.

Mrs. Emily Parent has been very much indisposed for some time.

Mr. J. W. Branch is lying dangerously ill at his home near this place.

The pikes in course of construction in this section are progressing slowly but surely.

Mr. Thos. Freeman, who has been very ill for some time, still remains in a precarious condition.

Tom Tracy and Miss Lena Beecher were married Nov. 25th, 1885.

Mr. L. P. Hulet officiated.

Messrs. R. D. Armstrong and J. P. Towles have been in Shelby county this week buying cattle.

Mr. J. P. Sargent's sale last week was well attended and the articles offered brought good prices.

Yes, we now call to mind that four candidates instead of three are on dit. Just ask P—— about it.

If we are to judge from present indications three more weddings will occur in this vicinity soon.

Messrs. J. B. Russell, J. B. Lea and J. W. Jenkins made a visit to Bald Knob last Saturday and Sunday.

Osar Roberts has purchased of Mr. W. F. Russell his house and lot in this town. Mr. Russell takes up his residence at Benson.

Considerable improvement in this section this fall. The degree of prosperity incident thereto is very perceptible. Let the good work go on.

Regular services at Evergreen Church next Saturday at 2 o'clock and Sunday at 11 o'clock. Pastor Hungerford officiating. A cordial welcome to all.

Wishard, the Sunday-school mission worker, will lecture in the Bridgeport Christian Church Thursday evening, Dec. 10th, 1885, at 7 o'clock. We bespeak for him a full house. Free to all.

Mr. R. H. Parent and family, recently of Middlebury, and who have been spending some weeks in this vicinity, left last Tuesday for Chattanooga, Tennessee, where they expect to reside in future.

If those who are so self-conceited as to believe they understand school teaching better than any one else, would try the business a day we opine the mind would speedily undergo a radical change.

We hope the teachers of the county will bear in mind the fact that next Saturday is the regular day for the meeting of the Franklin County Teachers' Association, and as business of grave importance will be presented for the action of the body, a full attendance is earnestly requested.

Found Dead.

One day last week a negro man and woman were detected at work for Mr. W. S. Johnson, near Spring Station, left unconsciously for parts unknown. On Monday Mr. Johnson went into the cabin which they had occupied and found in the bed a young baby with life extinct. The child had been dead for several days.—Midway Clipper.

Have used Tongaline in rheumatism, and it acted like a charm. My patient and not a single day of suffering, months, and is now able to take a few steps and steadily improving.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

FURNISHED BY GLOVER & DUNNETT, PROPRIETORS LOUISVILLE TOBACCO WAREHOUSE.

The sales this week amounted to 1,120 hds., which places the sales since January 1st at 121,230 hds.

The stock of old tobacco is being gradually reduced and will be very small by the end of the year, considering the magnitude of the market. The offerings of the new crop to date amount to 1,237 hds. The greater part of which has been of the dark and heavy types. The prices being realized for the leaf of the new crop very but slightly from the opening prices of a year ago; but the common grades are lower.

There is at present but little difference in value between the new Burley and the new heavy types, and the following quotations fairly represent the market:

Large.....$3.40 to $4.50
Common leaf.....4.50 to 6.00
Good leaf.....6.00 to 7.50
Dark leaf of extra length or of wrapping quality is ranging from.....7.50 to 8.50
And a few of the best Burley hds. have sold from.....7.50 to 9.50
